Description

This is a cibachrome print photograph. A loose leaf sheet of paper, pinned on the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall with a flower stem wedged through the crack, reads: "Damn you, brother - why didn't you / come back? I want you back, but not / in a box. I still love you, and I'd love / you if you came back in one piece [], or / your arms or legs or mind gone. I wasn't / that young when you died because I / cried too. God has you now but I want / you too, so damn you for not com- / ing back." Names of fallen soldiers are visible in the background.
