

Basic Detail Report

Pear Shaped Milk Jug, "Astley" or "Harvest Bug" Pattern

Date

ca. 1765-70

Primary Maker

Worcester Porcelain Company

Medium

Porcelain

Description

This is a Worcester "Astley" or "Harvest Bug" pattern pear-shaped milk jug painted in a famille-rose palette heightened in gilding with a gold-spotted black beetle crawling toward a flowering peony branch near two smaller flowering branches and two sprigs, the rim interior with an iron-red scallop-and-dot border, and the back affixed with a grooved loop handle.

Dimensions

3 5/16 in. (8.4 cm)