Todd Siler

Description

3d sculpture made of resin, depicting the inside of Leonardo da Vinci's brain. Siler places great stock on "Metaphorming," what he understands as the human ability to change and achieve brilliant insights, a notion connected to his ideas of genius. Siler's Mind icons are provocative images of the inside of a brain, in this case Leonardo's, his great hero. His Mind icons are ultimately about "what we're evolving towards"
