

Römer-style wine glass

Date

late 19th - early 20th c.

Medium

Blown, applied, tooled, gilded, and enameled glass

Description

Transparent light green glass. Rounded bowl has gilded rim edge, and entire bowl is covered in scrolls of reddish orange, purple, pink, yellow, green, and blue enamel with white detailing. The vessel has a true stem that is hollow and separate from the foot; thin bulges continue all the way down with a wider bulge for a knop. The top of the foot continues the stem, with a more bulbous bulge at the top and then undulated at the top surface. Gilded lines at four points along stem, while the central knop bulge has three small raspberry prunts (decorated with white dots and gilded central dot) alternating with three white 4-dot motifs. Line of white dots around top of foot; foot edge vertical with gilded edge. Ground.
